Dear Commissioner Adelstein,

Emergency response communications have never been more critical, or more difficult.

That's because of a common problem on police, fire and EMS radios: interference. Interference, garbled or dropped communications, inhibits first responders from doing their jobs safely and effectively. Essentially, if first responders can't communicate, they can't help and may themselves be in danger.

There is a solution before the FCC: the Consensus Plan. Over 300 public safety organizations, local governments, and congressional officials support this Plan because it eliminates interference before it occurs and at no additional cost to federal, state or local budgets - or the American taxpayer.

The 300 Consensus Plan supporters that have filed with the FCC, along with John Walsh, host of America's Most Wanted, recognize the importance of communications for America's police, fire and EMS workers. This problem has existed long enough, and our first responders deserve better. I am asking you to help.

Please listen to the voices of public safety. Our neighborhoods, families and fellow public safety professionals cannot afford to wait any longer.

Sincerely,

That's because of a common problem on police, fire and EMS radios: interference. Interference, garbled or dropped communications, inhibits first responders from doing their jobs safely and effectively. Essentially, if first responders can't communicate, they can't help and may themselves be in danger.

There is a solution before the FCC: the Consensus Plan. Over 300 public safety organizations, local governments, and congressional officials support this Plan because it eliminates interference before it occurs and at no additional cost to federal, state or local budgets - or the American taxpayer.

The 300 Consensus Plan supporters that have filed with the FCC, along with John Walsh, host of America's Most Wanted, recognize the importance of communications for America's police, fire and EMS workers. This problem has existed long enough, and our first responders deserve better. I am asking you to help.

Please listen to the voices of public safety. Our neighborhoods, families and fellow public safety professionals cannot afford to wait any longer.

Mr. Adelstein,

I appreciate your support of Mr. Powell regarding the increase of fines for profanity or obscenity aired by broadcasters. I would respectfully request that you reverse your decision regarding the Bono incident. In our current broadcasting environment, "Give an inch and they'll take a mile" appropriately describes the attitude of the TV/Radio industry. In reviewing the Bono case, please note the following entry from American Heritage Dictionary regarding the use of "f-ing" as an adjective:

The American Heritage® Dictionary of the English Language, Fourth Edition, 2000

fucking

SYLLABICATION

fuck ing

ADVERB & ADJECTIVE

Vulgar Slang Used as an intensive

Please enforce a high standard for the broadcast industry by denouncing and penalizing this kind of "vulgarity."

Thank you for serving in this office.

Sincerely,

Sonja Bradshaw
